-Of Local Interest.-

Ahead of Time.

This issue of The Record is sent to its readers on Tuesday, instead of Friday this week. This is done for several reasons. The Conn Bros., our hustling machinists have the contract to put an entire set of new dies in the engine boiler, our presses must be overhauled, books straightened out, and a thousand and one other matters attended to. All our help will enjoy Friday and Saturday as they see proper, but the editor will be in as usual ready to wait upon anyone having business with us.

Milk Maids' Convention, Dec. 29th.

C W B M Day will be observed the first Sunday in Jan. 10:45 a. m.

Everybody is invited to the Xmas tree at Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, at 6:30 o'clock.

The Sunday school of the Christian church will have a Xmas tree for the children on Thursday at 2 p. m.

Before making your Christmas purchases, consult our advertising columns. What is worth having is worth advertising, and vice versa.

Eld F M Tindler, will leave the 11th of January for Somerset, Ky., to conduct a series of meetings. O P McMahon will fill his pulpit on Sunday of his absence.

When in Cincinnati, don't forget to stop at the Palace Hotel. It is located at Sixth and Vine, one block above Fountain Square, and in the heart of the business portion of the city. The rates are reasonable and the fare and accommodations unsurpassed.

Edgar Graham, special agent for the Aetna Life Insurance Co., was here this week and paid the $2,000 policy on the life of J L Huffman, who had paid but one premium. Judge M D Hughes is the local agent, and the company is one of the best in the business.

Eason Gets Damages.

Danville Advocate:—Mr J T Eason, of this city, who had his leg crushed in a railroad wreck about a year ago near Burnside, has compromised the case with the C. N O & T P Railroad for $3,500, the company agreeing to pay all doctor bills.

An Apology.

We wish to apologize to our readers for the miserable quality of paper the last few issues of The Record have been printed upon. It was bought from what was supposed to be a straight house, and we paid the usual price for it, but we were "soaked" good and strong. A new lot has been ordered, and the next issue will be printed on strictly first-class material.

Goes to Danville.

John F Lear, who has been clerking for H T Logan, has accepted a flattering offer from Maj. E W Lillard, the Danville druggist, and will leave in a few days to take charge of the prescription counter in the latter's big store. Mr Lear is one of Garrard county's most popular young men, enjoying the respect and high esteem of the people generally. While we regret to lose him from our city, yet The Record rejoices that he has secured a more lucrative position. Mr and Mrs Lear will board in Danville.

Tim is All Right.

The following from the pen of Editor Tim Needham, of the Williams-town Courier, has the right ring to it: "The mid-winter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association, held at the Galt House in Louisville, last Friday was both pleasant and profitable to the thirty-five or forty members who were privileged to be present. We were there, and are glad of it, and hope to be with the boys again, at the May meeting, and go with the party to the World's Fair for 'Kentucky Day.'"

Annual Week of Prayer.

In accordance with the custom of the Evangelical churches, the first week of January will be observed as a Week of Prayer in the Lancaster churches. The first service will be held in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, Jan. 3rd, 7 o'clock, Rev C M Chumbley, leader. Monday evening the services will be held at the Christian church, Dr F H Pearce, leader. Tuesday evening at Presbyterian church, Elder F M Tindler, leader. These services will be Evangelistic in nature. Announcement for future services of the week will be made at these meetings.

Milk Maids' Convention.

The Ladies Aid Society has arranged to give the entertainment, "Milk Maids' Convention" at the court house Tuesday evening, Dec. 29th. About twenty-five of Lancaster's prettiest young ladies will take part, and an evening of fun is promised. There will be good music, pretty drills and new songs. The price of admission has been fixed at 25cts, but it is best to secure reserved seat (35cts) which are now on sale at McRoberts' drug store, and as a big crowd will be there. Children under 12 years, will be charged 15cts. Remember, this is for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society, so go and help them out.

Frank Humphrey is expected home to spend Christmas with his parents.

Held Over.

Interior Journal:—James Kennedy, who killed Will Holmes in the East End some two weeks ago, had his examining trial Tuesday and was held over till circuit court in $2,000. His brother, Ben Kennedy, charged with being an accessory, was held in $1,000. Both gave bond.

Trustee of Jury Fund.

Mr F Sautley Hughes has been notified of his re appointment as trustee of the jury fund in Garrard county. Mr Hughes has held this office during Judge Sautley's term, and his work has been done to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

Big Show Tonight.

The "Africans" Minstrels will give a good show at the court house tonight. The boys have been working hard, and have a tip-top show, in every respect. They have good dancers, good jokes, a splendid banjo player, new songs, and altogether a show which is sure to please you. Many seats have been sold, and we would advise that you go to Stormes store and reserve seats.

Rothwell Appointed.

Mr J M Rothwell was notified Thursday night of his selection by Judge W C Bell as Master Commissioner for Garrard county during the latter's term of office. Mr Rothwell will be sworn in and assume the duties of the office at first term of circuit court. He is a capable young man and will make a No. 1 official. Reed S. Nichols was appointed commissioner in Boyle, Lee, Crrrey in Mercer and Geo Sautley, son of Judge Sautley, in Lincoln.

Business Change.

Mr J C Robinson has purchased a half interest in the large hardware, buggy and tin shop business of Mr J R Haselden, and will begin business Jan 1. Mr Robinson was in the hardware business in Lancaster for many years and there is no detail which he does not understand. Mr Haselden has an immense stock, and the new firm will make a very strong one. Mr Haselden is one of the hardest-working business men in town, and has built up a fine business and won the confidence and esteem of the public.

In Memory of J. S. Underwood.

J. S. Underwood was born Aug. 22, 1840, in Lincoln county, and died Nov. 28, 1903 in this city, where he has resided most of his life, until four years ago, when he moved to Parksville. He was married to Lina Bourne, Aug. 22, 1861. Of this union, several children were born, most of whom, together with his wife survive him. He united with the Methodist church in 1895, having, up to that time, lived an honest upright life, but, becoming dissatisfied and longing to do something for his Saviour, he gave his heart to God, and through trials severe with a heart brave and true, he patiently and faithfully toiled on for his family, his church and for Christ until the swift-winged messenger of peace bade him enter the haven of rest. In his quiet, peaceful journey through life his motto was "Owe no man anything." We have lost a kind father, his community a kind neighbor.

Early hath the spoiler found thee
Father of our loves
Evermore may turt lie lightly,
And, with future showers,
O'er thy slumbers fresh and lightly
Blow the summer flowers!
Peace be with thee, O, our father
In the spirit land,
Valiantly look we for another
In thy place to stand.

FANNIE ARCHER.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky., December 22, 1903.

Three more days until Christmas, the time for gift-giving and merry-making with a great majority of the people. Some will take up the time with a visit to friends, the city chap will visit his country cousin, while Reuben will go to the city and see the sights. Some will go hunting, some will get drunk and many will be forced to remain at their usual daily toil. Notwithstanding all this commotion and hustling around, we presume not one in every fifty will stop to consider why the holidays were set apart or what it is they are supposed to be celebrating. Very few, sad to say, will stop to ponder over the sweet story of the babe in the manger, or even lift their eyes heavenward to breathe a short prayer of thanksgiving for the sending of the Blessed Master to save a lost and ruined world. In this day and time it is push and pull for the almighty dollar, and were it not that the law required business houses to close on the Sabbath, even that holy day would soon pass as un-noticed by the business world as do Thanksgiving and Christmas days. As it is the honorable newspaper's first duty to uphold Christianity and right living, The Record takes this occasion to remind its readers of the great event to be celebrated, and call attention to the fact that as man's first duty is to his God, he may begin to make preparations to celebrate the Day of the Nativity in proper manner, lay aside his business and ponder over what is of greatest import to him—that of obedience to his Master, and instead of stopping with feasting and merry-making, minister to the poor, cheer up the down-hearted and endeavor to help some erring brother back into the straight and narrow road from which he has wandered. If you are a Christian, and an exception to the careless class above referred to, renew your determination to do yet more during the approaching year for your Master. The Record extends to its readers best wishes for their good health and prosperity, and is very thankful, indeed, for favors during the past year. We have made mistakes, and many of them, but we trust you will consider the immense task and limited help we have, and forgive anything said or done amiss. We will strive even harder during the next year to send you a good, clean paper, and in doing so, we ask your hearty co-operation. So here's a Merry Christmas and a joyous, prosperous New Year to you all.

Yesterday, we heard one of our older citizens say, "Well, my boy used to never miss coming to see us Christmas, but he has fallen out of the habit, so I suppose he will fall this time. It's pretty hard on we old people to miss our children at this time, but I guess they know best." A tear trickled down the old gentleman's cheek, and he showed plainly that he considered he and his faithful old wife about forgotten. Young men leave their old town and secure employment in the city, they soon become infatuated with the rapid pace of city life and the old home grows too small for them. We sometimes see fellows come back to Lancaster who wear an air that would disgust a prefringed man. They have forgotten the many times they have crossed the old Public Square wearing a gingham waist, cotton breeches, one gallus and a sore toe. They have forgotten the frequent trips they have made "across town" bringing up the rear of the old brindle cow. They are men now, and the "Public Square" which once looked to them like Madison Square would now appear has little interest to them.

They have learned to shift for themselves and they are not looking to "the old man" for Christmas money, as was the case a few years ago. Lancaster is in exactly the same place it was then, boys, but those who honored her as citizens are very scarce, and if you have not been here for several years, you will notice the change, and notice it greatly. So come home this week, come spend a day or so in the old town you once loved so well, see the few remaining people who helped make Lancaster a town, and The Record is quite sure you will feel better by having done so. Lay aside your cares for the time and come to see the friends of your boyhood days. If your absence from business makes trouble, accept it gladly. If it is an expense, save somewhere else. If for any reason it is annoyance, don't be selfish. Don't let the old folks and you relatives and old friends know that anything in this world can even temporarily replace them in your thoughts.

While in Louisville the other day, we had the pleasure of visiting a display of the work made by the Louisville newspaper artists. Some of this was on the high order, that is, it was done in colors, while most of the rest consisted of comic drawings. The cartoon man furnishes more pleasure and information, too, than any man on the daily papers, and nothing adds more to the metropolitan journal than the comic drawings made of local and general events. The only objection is there is not more of it.

There are movements in most every city and town for helping the indigent and sick on Christmas Day. DO YOUR PART. Don't leave room for the criticism that you failed to make merry and happy some unfortunate soul who might have been made joyous but for your negligence.

Every bank failure in the United States during the last two months is shown to have been due to gross mismanagement or dishonesty of responsible officials. Incompetency and dishonesty are two things that will bring individual reverses in any country under any economic conditions.

The time and place of the Republican national convention have been fixed and the nomination for the presidency practically made, notwithstanding scattering remarks to the contrary. Senator Hanna said the other day it will be Roosevelt, and Mr Hanna is in the habit of knowing whereof he speaks regarding Republican politics.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evil attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. ## About People We Know

Mrs. Banks Hudson spent Monday in Lexington.

Dr. H. M. Grant is at home from a recent stay in Louisville.

Miss Mary Woodruff entertained a few friends the past week at a "pit" party.

Misses Martha and Helen Gill will spend the holidays with their sister, Miss Mary.

Mr. W. B. Burton will entertain at a party tomorrow evening at the New Mason hotel.

The teachers, Misses Washburn, Peyton and Oakley will spend Christmas with relatives.

Miss Norine Henry, of Batson's dry goods store, will spend the holidays with her home folks in Lexington.

Mrs. Clementine Kennedy and daughter, Miss Gussie, of Lexington, will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Banks Hudson.

There will be a "Candy Sale" Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Frierson at the Presbyterian parsonage at Paint Lick. All most cordially invited.

The handsome little son, of Mrs. E. H. Smith, of Eldorado, Ark., called on the editor and Capt. White. His uncle, Robert Henry, told him not to fail to meet these two gentlemen. His visit was highly appreciated.

The Record acknowledges receipt of an invitation to the wedding of Mr. William Quincy Adams, of the Owensboro Inquirer, to Miss Grace Higbee, of that city, January 5th. Mr. Adams is one of the "Old Guard" in the Press Association and we send heartfelt congratulations.

Miss Ada Dickerson, of Nicholasville is the guest of Miss Cordie Hamilton.

Miss Louise Farris was a charming hostess to a few friends Friday evening.

Miss Skinner, our pleasant telephone operator, is in Beuna Vista for the holidays.

Misses Alberta Anderson and Allie Arnold are visiting relatives in Nicholasville.

Miss Edna Ballaw, of Richmond, is the guest of her aunts, Misses Lucy and Tom Francis.

Messrs. Waller Hudson and Louis Gill are at home from Danville to spend the holidays.

Miss Mary Burnside has returned from a very pleasant visit to friends in Lexington and Frankfort.

The young ladies of the B. M. C. club will give a Leap Year party the evening of Jan. 1st, at the W. C. T. U. rooms.

Mrs. Joe A. Elsener and baby of Charleston, West Va., and Joe Miller of Covington, are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Miller.

Lexington Leader:—Rev. H. L. Frank, who has been critically ill at St. Joseph's Hospital for several weeks, is much better today and is reported to be getting along nicely.

Danville Advocate:—Dr. and Mrs. B. Ramsey, of Paint Lick, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. P. Frank. They will leave tomorrow for New Orleans, where they will spend the winter.

A kidney or bladder trouble can always be cured by using Foley's Kidney cure in time. C. C. & J. E. Stormes. 15

IN MEMORIAM.

Once more has there been called from the ranks of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union one of its most faithful, devoted members.

Miss Mary Catharine Walker, or "Miss Kate" as she was usually called by her friends, was a charter member of the Lancaster W. C. T. U. retaining her membership with that Union until the time of her death. Seldom, during the many years, was she absent from the weekly meeting, and never, unless compelled to be so.

Possessed of a firm, resolute character, with the courage at all times of her convictions, wise and prudent in her judgment, her counsel and advice doubtless did much to give nobility to the young organization at a time when it was most needed, and her influence has been felt in all the years that have followed.

Though a while before her death she left us for a change of residence, her membership still remained with us; and as a mark of our esteem for her she was recently made a life member of the organization—the only person ever accorded that honor.

To have her with us during our recent State Convention was a pleasure we shall always remember. As our State President, standing by her side placed her arm affectionately around her, and with gracious words of appreciation, presented her to the Convention as one of our most honored members, the aged eyes filled with tears, the lips were too tremulous with emotion to speak, but, as we looked into her face, grown beautiful through a life of loving service to others, we read far better than she could have expressed, the depth of her feelings, and the joy that it gave her to be with us.

Dear faithful heart; ready at all times to fulfill the humblest, as well as the highest mission, to do each day of her life, faithfully, whatever her hands found to do,—for her, there is no death; what seems so is but promotion into a higher sphere of usefulness, an entrance into the Palace of the Great King, and

"It is sweet below
To minister to those whom God doth love;
What will it be to minister above,
His praise to show!"

Realizing that our loss is her gain, we, as a Union are—

Resolved, That while we shall miss from our earthly membership the name and face of Miss Mary Catharine Walker, we rejoice in her life, and are grateful for that Providence which made her for so long a time a member of our organization, and for the imprint of her consecrated Godly character upon our work, the memory of which will abide with us during the years to come.

Resolved, That standing as we do at the close of her earthly life, we reiterate once more our faith in the principles and work to which she gave so much of her best years; and with hearts grown stronger through the memory of her faithfulness, we press forward in the work for God, Home and Every Land.

Mrs. Mary R. Patterson,
Mrs. Fleece Kinnaird,
Mrs. Fannie Farra,
Committee.

Jenkins and wife in April 1873, being first tract above described, and connects with said last named passway on the Wood-yard and Lamb farms intersecting the road running by Geo. Burdett's.

In making said sale the Commissioner will offer said tracts of land in the following manner, to-wit: He will offer the two-ninths undivided interest in first tract by itself, and the curtesy interest in the remaining seven-ninths thereof by itself, then he will offer both together and together with second tract. He will then offer second tract by itself.

He will next offer third and fifth tracts together, the same lying tract, then the fourth tract by itself. He will then offer seventh tract by itself. Said Commissioner will then offer all of said tracts and interests as a whole, the bid or bids realizing the most money for all said lands will be accepted.

TERMS.

The sale will be made on a credit of 6 and 12 months bonds with good security will be required of the purchaser for the purchase money, payable to the undersigned bearing 6 per cent. interest from day of sale until paid, having the force and effect of a judgment upon which execution may issue if bonds are not paid at maturity. A lien will be retained on the property sold until the purchase money is paid.

HANDS.

It is a curious fact that the word hands should live in our language as a practical definition of the value and standing of the laboring classes. Mill hands, farm hands, factory hands, they are all alike, simply hands. Even the workers themselves recognize this definition as accurate by rarely looking beyond the activity of the hands whose skill or strength earns the wage. But some day the worker learns that behind the hands is the stomach. When the stomach is weak or diseased the hands lose their strength and cunning. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes the body strong. It enables a man to work full time and earn full wages.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, Sub. Station "C," writes: "I was taken very sick and doctors told me it would kill me if I did not do something for myself. I was taken with severe headaches, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got so weak I could scarcely get around. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up the idea that I could not be cured. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so much I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have done more hard work in the past eleven months than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sent FREE on receipt of 10¢ in stamps to pay express charges. Send ten-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or thirty-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Land, Stock, Crops.

Messrs James Prather, Grant White and N. Ray, of Needmore, Mason county, killed 140 rabbits in a twenty acre field in that neighborhood and they say they left as many more.

There is no doubt now that all of the hundred and nineteen counties in Kentucky will have representation at the World's Fair, if not in one department, in another. The county that does not show agricultural products will probably be in the mineral exhibit, and if not in the mineral or agricultural displays will have a place either in forestry, education, horticulture or live stock.

The harvest of wheat alone engages about 1,000,000 men and 50,000 teams three months of the summer, while at least 10,000 women are needed to prepare food for the workers. The harvest of other crops employ less men, but the entire number of harvesters needed in gathering the crops of the United States has been estimated at 1,520,700—that is exclusive of the farmers that reside on their own land and aid in the harvest.

The breeding of the champion steer of the International Fat Stock Show, Challenger, is one half Hereford, one-quarter Shorthorn, and one-quarter Holstein. It is to be hoped that these unexpected honors will not have the effect of turning the heads of Holstein Friesian breeders toward beef or dual purpose. Better keep on in the old lines of milk and butter.

The largest Congressional seed distribution ever made by the Government will soon be made. Before spring planting, over 1,000 tons of seeds of various kinds will have been sent broadcast throughout the United States. There will be 45,000,000 packages, and the cost of placing these in the hands of the recipients of Uncle Sam's favor will be $270,000. With a view to handling the seeds better, the country has been divided into six districts, and seeds and plants particularly adapted to that section will be sent there much complaint in the past that there was no discrimination in placing seeds, and that Minnesota was as likely to receive seeds and plants that would grow only in the latitude of Florida as any others. The vegetable seeds will be put up, five packets in a large package and each member of Congress will receive 12,500 of these packages. Cotton and tobacco seed of the very best varieties will be distributed among the Southern members who have constituents raising these crops.

Harrodsburg Herald—Bruce Tewmeyer shipped 90 hogs to Louisville and sold for 44c. Miller Cloyd sold a bunch of stock shoats and two brood sows and a Poland China boar at 4c to J. J. Ransdell. Cleo Coleman returned Thursday from Southwest Missouri, where he bought 1,200 head of cattle the past month at 2 1/2 and 3c. Some of them have been put on slop in Anderson county and 200 head are at Curley's distillery.

One well fed, housed steer, pig or goat, is worth more than two without sufficient food and shelter. Frozen combs stop the supply of eggs. Rub a few drops of glycerine on the comb and wattle to heal them, for until they are healed you will get no eggs, and eggs are money these days.

The statistics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that in 1890 it required 17 1/2 cents worth of labor to produce a bushel of wheat. In 1896 this was reduced to 3 1/2 cents. In 1890 the time representing the production of a bushel of corn was 4 1/2 hours. In 1900, it was reduced to 34 minutes! This saving was largely brought about by the introduction and use of improved farm machinery.

Fight Will Be Bitter. Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall, of Beall, Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her." Guaranteed by McRobert's Druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. 1m

The misfortunes that are hardest to bear are those that never happen.

Coughs, Colds and Consumption. Few people realize when taking cough medicines other than Foley's Honey and Tar, that they contain opiates which are constipating besides being unsafe, particularly for children. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates is safe and sure and will not constipate. CC & J. E. Stormes. 1m

The first prize for a car load of fat cattle at the Chicago Show was won by a load of yearling steers from Boffa, Ill. They were out of pure bred Shorthorn cows by pure bred Herford bulls. They averaged 1009 pounds and brought $8.35 per cwt. The prize for single fat animal was won by a Herford steer from Nebraska. He won $430 in prizes. He weighed 1,825 lbs. and was sold at 28c per lb.

The Breeders Protective Association of Kentucky, has this fall bought 175 mares and fillies which it has put out of the breeding business. The organization has been established five years, and during that time has sent 691 mares out of the breeding business. This is done by buying up mares with poor breeding records, destroying all evidences of their identity, and shipping them to distant cities, where they are sold for work horses, and all trace of their pedigrees lost.

A Costly Mistake. Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Headache, Liver or Bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c, at McRobert's Drug Store. 1m

RELIGIOUS TRUTHS.

Oh, Father, heed the prayer! In me create A heart unselfish, freed from worldly guile. Cleanse now my soul from sin's unworthy state. Regenerate by grace the mean and vile; That mine may be a life of purity. Be Thou my strength, and bid my faith increase. With human weakness, Lord, deal patiently— Bestow Thy love and grant Thy wondrous peace.

Though sin and death abound on every side, Though men are false, in Thee we may confide. And through life's trials till my prayer shall be: A clean, pure heart, O God, create in me; Heal all my troubles with the touch divine, And cleanse and keep this erring heart of mine. —Miss Margaret Scott Hall, in N. Y. Observer.

CHOOSE.

God Does Not Impose Arbitrary and Unreasonable Commands, But Sets Before Us Facts.

The Bible does not impose upon us arbitrary and unreasonable commands. It sets before us facts, and invites us to decide with enthusiasm for one alternative or the other—for God will have no lukewarm service. In view of the awful temptations and the noble opportunities with which every life abounds, it says to every man who has ears to hear: "Choose." A glance at any concordance, says the Sunday School Times, will show how often the Bible presents us with the thought that God makes choices. Choose is one of the highest exercises of the rational nature, and the divine command to choose—such a command as was urged by Moses and Joshua, by Christ and Paul, by all teachers and leaders who have felt the everlasting importance of life's issues—such a command can dishonor no man. It assumes that we are rational beings, who were not made to be driven, but who can examine and decide for ourselves.

The power to choose, which lifts us above the brutes, is a power that we exercise all too seldom. Most lives are neither conspicuous successes nor brilliant failures, just because men so seldom arrest themselves and make some deliberate resolve. The mistake which blights so many lives is, not that they make a definite choice of evil, but that they never choose at all. Too seldom do men look alternatives honestly in the face. They do not choose, they drift. You could almost count up on the fingers of your two hands all the men you know who have ever made some great and solemn choice which has seriously shaped their subsequent career. How many could tell why they are in this trade or profession, and not in that; in this church, and not in that? We are where we are, often, simply because our parents, or some other of the powers that be, put us there. So far, that is right; we must receive our start in life from others. But, as we love God and our own souls, we must not stand there; we must learn to choose for ourselves, and not drift into the other world with the helplessness of the beasts that perish.

Numberless things of the highest moment were determined for us before ever we saw the light. We did not choose our parents, our family, our country, our language, our religion, our social station, the sphere within which our friendships are possible or by which our education is limited. We stand, as it were, within a charmed circle, across which we often feel we cannot step. If we move at all, it is only, like the prisoner, to walk to and fro and round and round. Yet God has so made us that it is in our power to choose the greatest things. Our path may sometimes seem to be tracked out for us before ever we begin life's journey; we may seem to be sternly compassed about by necessity, yet God's word to every man is "Choose." And woe to him who stops his ears and allows himself to be borne onward every day nearer and nearer to a goal which he has never once looked straight in the face!

Nor need our choice be a blind one, it is to be made in the light of our experience. God asks no man to choose without giving him facts to determine his choice. We cannot look over

Do Not Dose The Stomach. Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method—Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by dosing the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a health giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs you but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

R. E. McRoberts has sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

Our little lives, still less over the expense of history, without choosing for God, if we choose at all. Do you not see how your life has been molded by Divine fingers? how the disappointment which a few years ago you felt sure would crush you has opened up for you other treasures of unimagined happiness, which would have been forever sealed had God then given you your own foolish way? Do you not feel that the bereavement which seemed to bury your own heart in the grave of your dear dead has brought you after many days a peace, and even a quiet joy, which you never knew before? Your past is written all over with the finger of God; it is in the light of all that that you are to make your choice. The God who bids you choose is the God who helps you to choose, who

"From our mother's arms Hath blessed us on our way With countless gifts of love, And still is ours to-day."

And the time to choose is to-day. Time has no meaning for God; for Him who is, and was, and is to be, there is no yesterday and no to-morrow. But we are creatures of time. A hundred years ago we were not; in another hundred years we shall not be—not, at least, in the visible world, taking part in its social or political affairs, nor in the visible life of the church, sharing her struggles and aspirations. We look before and after. Our past may kindle inspiration or remorse, according as we have been faithful or unfaithful to the best that we knew. Our future may fill us with hope or despair according to our temper of mind; and to our use or misuse of the past. But of the past and of the future we are not masters; we command nothing but the present. The past is past, the future is God's, the present alone is ours. We cannot choose in the past; it is gone, and with it all power of modifying it by the free exercise of our will. We cannot choose in the future; we may never see the day to which we postpone our decision; some future certainly we shall never see. The present only is the time of choice.

It is often said that most men live in the present. In one sense, that is true; in another sense, it would be nearer the truth to say that few men really live in the present in any profound sense of the word "live" at all. The old man lives proverbially in the past, with its memories of the good old times; the young man lives in the future, when the toils and hardships of the present have won for him means and leisure. We live in any day and every day but the day that is ours, the day that is passing—to-day.

It is so hard to realize the infinite value of the present day. The past, which we think to be so far, as it lies in the golden light of memory, was once the present. Did we think it fair then? The future, whose rosy brilliance beckons us across the years, will one day be the present. Shall we think it so radiant then? No sane man would dream of despising the pleasures of memory or hope; but the present, with its clamant opportunities and its solemn responsibilities, ought to be as inspiring a force in our lives as the past with its memories, or the future with its hopes. The present, which we think so commonplace, will some day be a past, which we shall probably think beautiful. Why should we not think it beautiful now? This day holds in its bosom the memories of the past and the hopes of the future. But it is greater than the future and the past, for we have it, but we have not them. We, then, who are alive this day, breathing God's air, looking up to His Heaven, have still the present in our hands, therefore let us choose. It is to-day that is the accepted time—to-day, and no other day. Day by day God is pouring upon His thoughtless children His treasure of golden hours. They will pass all too soon away—and then?

We are yet in the enjoyment of health and strength and unclouded mental vision. Whether our brain will be clear to-morrow, and our powers of resolution unimpaired, we do not know. Reserves come like a thief in the night. The indecision of to-day cripples the resolution of to-morrow. "It is always to-day with God," said Origen—but it is not always to-day with us. Therefore, while it is called to-day, let us harden not our hearts, but choose. If we refuse to enter now into the beautiful house in which Christ is longing to spread His table before us, there may come a time when the door will be shut.

The importance of choice is obvious, the time to choose is to-day. But what are we to choose? The path of service. "We will serve the Lord." The noblest and the rarest choice is the choice of service, and the wisest service is the service of the highest and best. The only choice on which anything really vital ever depends is the choice of that which we shall serve. Serve something we must. We were born to serve. Day by day we have humbly to serve Nature's great and unerring laws, or she would sweep us out of existence; and hour by hour, in the problems that cross our path, we are serving God and Christ or ourselves—if not God or Christ, then ourselves. No man is so profoundly the slave of himself as the man who thinks he is his own master. Jesus' choice was the choice of service. "He was in the form of God," sharing His ineffable glory; but "He made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of man, and humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death." That was the hard, rough path that Jesus deliberately chose for us men and for our salvation; and, as the Father sent Him, so He sends us on a mission of service to all whom we can help. It is this that gives unity to His life. "I am among you as he that doth serve." And it was He Himself who taught us that we serve Him by serving those who need our service. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

When he calls thee to work thou never didst. He will give thee the strength thou never hadst.—John Mason. If a man's earnest calling, to which of necessity the greater part of his thought is given, is altogether dissociated in his mind from his religion, it is not wonderful that his prayers should by degrees wither and die. The question is, whether they ever had much vitality.—George Macdonald.

MADE STUDY OF HUMPBACKS.

Liverpool Bachelor Gathered Information Regarding Them from Various Countries.

It was an odd fad enjoyed by a healthy bachelor who died recently in Liverpool. His heir, on opening his desk, was surprised to find in it a manuscript volume of 2,000 pages, which was entirely devoted to a study of humpbacks. Further investigation showed that for several years this man, who was himself stalwart, tall and athletic, had closely studied this curious subject and had visited various countries for that purpose.

According to his manuscript there are more humpbacks in Spain than anywhere else, the number in one small district at the foot of the Sierra Morena amounting to one in every 13 inhabitants. There are also many in the Loire region, in France. From the statistics of all the countries of the globe it appears that there is one humpback in every 1,000 persons, which is equivalent to saying that there are 1,000,000 humpbacks in the entire world. The author of this manuscript says that the average height of each hump is about eight inches.

Rings Under Gloves.

According to a well known London jeweler, people who want their rings to last well should not wear them under gloves. The constant friction of the gloves wears the tiny points that hold the stones in place and the result is that the stones fall out unless they are closely looked after.

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce Hon. D. L. MOORE, of Mercer County, as a candidate for Congress in the Eighth District, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Your support is earnestly solicited.

For Supt. Public Schools.

Mrs Maggie B. Gullett is a candidate for Supt. of Public Schools in Garrard Co., subject to the action of the democratic party.

WHALING IN THE ARCTIC.

The Skipper and His Gun and the Precautions in Preparing for a Shot.

The gun, a solid, cumbersome affair of about three-inch caliber, is swung around so that the muzzle points inboard, and then the chamber is swabbed out by the skipper himself, who plainly regards every step of this preliminary work as of the greatest importance. The number of times that this man has missed his whale is so small that he takes pride in his record; and, in addition to his reputation, there is the value of the whale, says a writer in Harper's. A good-sized whale means $1,200 or so to himself, who, besides being skipper and harpooner, is also owner of the ship and of the trying-out plant ashore. So, after inspecting the harpoon and wadding brought from below, he swabs out the gun a second time, and then takes a pound of quick-burning powder, in a little white cotton bag, and rams it home. A big fistful of rope-ends is stuffed in after the powder, and following the rope-ends a thick rubber disk; after that another batch of rope-ends.

Then ensues a most critical examination of the bomb lance, a heavy piece of cast iron, perhaps 18 inches in length, sharp pointed forward, but enlarged toward the rear, where is enclosed a grenade that is timed to explode a few seconds after it is shot into the whale and deal the mortal wound.

KING TRIED TO HIDE DEED.

Gave Money for the Salvation Army and Refused to Give Donor's Name.

A good story of King Edward's interest in the Salvation Army is told by Walsh Dawson, a supporter of the army's social work, reports the London Social Gazette.

Two years ago Mr. Dawson, who had interested himself in obtaining donations for social work, was on his way one afternoon to call on a certain benevolent peer, when he lost his way in the thick fog. Suddenly he ran against a man near Buckingham palace. Apologizing, he asked the stranger if he could direct him to the house he was looking for. The reply was: "Certainly. I am going there myself. I'll show you the house."

"We chatted away merrily," Mr. Dawson continues. "I told him all about my work and the labors of the Salvation Army. He seemed deeply interested and when I reached the house he said: 'It is dreadful to think that so much suffering exists in this city. I want you to accept a little gift for the poor, suffering ones,' and he placed in my hand ten sovereigns."

"I was astonished and asked the unknown donor what name I should put down in the book. He replied, hurriedly: 'No name at all, please. Simply anonymous.' Suddenly I saw his face distinctly for the first time; it was the prince of Wales, now the king."

BOOK AGENTS RIDE IN CABS.

Some in New York City Make Five to Ten Thousand Dollars a Year with Little Effort.

A New Yorker out of work was attracted by an alluring advertisement from a publishing house. The compensation mentioned was $30 a week to commence, and more as sales increased. The young man was ambitious and had a good general acquaintance among the sort of men who buy books, reports the Times. When he went for his job he was told that the $30 a week proposition meant that the firm did not care to employ book agents who had not demonstrated their ability to earn that sum regularly on commission. There was nothing in the nature of a salary guarantee about it. He was told, also, that there were men book agents in New York who made their $5,000 to $10,000 a year without much trouble. These agents, he was told, handled only the highest and most expensive publications. They had become acquainted with the individual tastes and peculiarities of rich men, who never questioned the price of a book if it was something they wanted. The trade of these men was entirely in editions de luxe. The agents made appointments with their customers by telephone, either at the homes or offices of the latter, and rode in a hansom cab to keep the appointment. If they did not ride they took a boy from the publishing house to carry the book.

QUIT THE TURKEY BUSINESS.

How Secretary Whitney's Good Intentions Were Spoiled by a Few Impatient Women.

The story of how a few impatient women destroyed a mighty good resolution was recently told by the chief clerk of the navy department. In 1888 Secretary Whitney was delayed in getting out his report, and finally had to push it through with a rush, says the New York Tribune.

"So well was the work done," says Mr. Peters, "and so pleased was the secretary, that two days before Thanksgiving he sent for me and said: 'Mr. Peters, I wish you would go to the market and buy a turkey for every employee of the government printing office.' 'But, Mr. Secretary,' I replied, 'it would require 3,000 turkeys to fill that order.' 'It makes no difference if 5,000 would be needed; buy them.' 'It is impossible,' I said; 'there are not 3,000 unsold turkeys to be had in Washington to-day.' 'Then,' said he, 'ascertain the names of the men who had the principal part in getting out the report, get a turkey for each to-day, and order the necessary number—3,000 or 5,000—and see that they are delivered in time for Christmas.' Under these instructions nine turkeys were sent to the printing office that day. The next morning the secretary received ten letters. Nine were notes of thanks, and the other was a letter from 55 girls in the bindery, who demanded a turkey each because of the part they had taken in getting out the report. As soon as he read that letter the secretary of the navy said: 'Mr. Peters, I have gone out of the turkey business.' Nothing further was necessary. The Christmas distribution was not made, and all on account of the haste of 55 women to get recognition for their services.

WARMED-OVER SPEECHES.

Phonograph Cylinders Bought by Senator Hanna Were Not Just the Right Kind.

Senator Hanna bought a phonograph with six cylinders of the "Nancy Brown" and "Bamboo Tree" variety. He was pleased and told a servant to lay in a stock of ten more cylinders, reports the Baltimore Herald.

On the way to the phonograph store the servant passed an auction place where such cylinders, among other things, were advertised at cut rates. He purchased and carted the impressions home, thinking to be commended by his master for his shrewd business ability. Mr. Hanna that evening took up the first cylinder that came to hand, placed it in position and started the wheels to going. The announcement was made by the phonograph that there would follow "the great anti-trust speech of the Hon. William Sulzer, member of congress from New York."

Mr. Hanna cut off the wind of the machine, examined the rest of the apparatus and found that the reason he had gotten the cylinders so cheap was that they were all left over speeches by democratic orators on democratic subjects.

The next day he went to the phonograph store and laid in his own stock of impressions.

FROM PAGE TO PREMIER.

Remarkable and Romantic Career of the Prime Minister of Uganda.

The career of Apolo Kagwa, prime minister of Uganda, who attended the coronation in London, has been remarkable and romantic. When a young man he was a page in the court of King M'esa, and after that ruler's death, rose to the rank of steward under the notorious M'wanga. He always held aloof from the barbarities prevalent at that time, and was in consequence more than once beaten and wounded by M'wanga.

Twenty years ago Apolo came under the influence of the Church Missionary society and has since remained a loyal and staunch friend of the missionaries, often at great personal cost. Though speaking little English, he is no mean scholar in his own tongue and has written three books on the history and folklore of his people.

It was owing to the strong representations of Apolo, says the London Express, that M'wanga in 1890 signed the treaty with Capt. Lugard by which Uganda became a British protectorate. He was head of the forces in 1892, and ruled the country with conspicuous ability during M'wanga's flight. Had it not been for his influence the chiefs would have rebelled and the country would have had to be reconquered.

Degerming of Corn.

The degerming of corn—that is, removing the yellow germ from the tip of each kernel—is necessary in all corn for export because the germs, when corn is in the hold of a vessel, start a fermentation which spoils the whole cargo. The product each year of this degerming is about 5,000,000 gallons of corn oil, which has heretofore been used to adulterate linseed oil, but now a process for clarifying it and removing its peculiar odor brings it into competition with olive and cottonseed oil.

Watermelon Railroad.

Probably the first railroad ever built in the United States principally to haul watermelons will be a branch which the Burlington is getting ready to construct in southern Missouri this spring. The line will be 50 miles long, and will run through a district which is distinctively the home of the watermelon. Enough melons are said to be produced there to keep one railroad busy during the season hauling them.

Ants Are Strong.

A. R. Miller recently weighed a small ant and a dead grasshopper which it was dragging to its nest. The weight of the grasshopper was found to be 60 times greater than that of the ant. The force exerted by the ant in dragging the grasshopper along the road was therefore proportionately equal to that of a man weighing 150 pounds pulling a load of 4½ tons, or a horse of 1,200 pounds a load of 36 tons.

City of Padlocks.

Irkutsk, in Siberia, is said to be a veritable city of padlocks. There are more padlocks on the shutters and doors of an Irkutsk shop than can be found in an English city of 200,000. There are as many as three padlocks on some shop doors, and every lower story shutter bears from one to five.

Record Shoemaking.

A pair of women's shoes made in Lynn, Mass., to establish a record for rapid shoemaking, required 57 different operations, and the use of 42 machines and 100 pieces. All these parts were assembled and made into a graceful pair of shoes, ready to wear, in 13 minutes.

Don't Violate the Law

And don't encourage the violation of the law

by buying Whisky from those who have no right to sell you whisky.

We Have a Right to Sell you Whisky.

And You Have a Right to Buy it From Us.

READ OUR PROPOSITION:

We will send you one full quart of 10-year-old either Rye or Bourbon Whiskey, nicely packed in plain box, for $1.00; two quarts for $2.00, or four quarts for $3.50 and we will pay all express charges. It will cost you just 3 cents to send us either one or two dollars and 5 cents to send us $1.25 via postoffice money order, thus you get a quart of ten-year old Whisky absolutely pure, for just the same price you pay for a bad compound called whisky, which is dangerous to your health. And if you buy four quarts you get it at 8½ cts. a quart, or we will send you one gallon of six-year-old whisky guaranteed absolutely pure, nicely packed in plain box, for $2.50; two gallons for $4.75; three gallons for $7.00 a four gallon jug for $9.00, all express charges paid by us to your nearest office.

You ought to have whisky in your house; your doctor will tell you that whisky is the best and least harmful stimulant that you can use and is better than drugs. Think of the horror of a sudden attack of toothache, cramps, colic or neuralgia in the dead hours of night and no doctor near, no whisky in the house; what would a few ounces of whisky be worth to you on such an occasion? Forewarned is forearmed; "In time of peace prepare for war," get some whisky, but get good, PURE whisky; don't allow anyone to sell you a miserable compound, because it's cheap, send us your order to-day.

Our positive guarantee goes with every order. If you are not pleased with the goods when you receive them we will cheerfully return your money. Isn't that fair enough? We are reliable; we will do just what we say. Experience will give you confidence in us.

Reference, the Lexington City National Bank, or the Adams Express Co. at Lexington. Remember we pay all express charges. Make remittance payable to and address.

The HAGIN DISTILLING CO., Lexington, Ky.

A nice etched glass and cork screw free with every order

The American Seeding Machine Co., Springfield, Ohio, has issued the best Almanac we have seen. It contains much valuable information, and is invaluable. Write the firm and they will send you one, free.

How fast a bass grows may be inferred from the fact that fish of this variety have been caught from an artificial pond at Boonville, Warrick county, weighing from four to six and a half pounds, that were placed there as minnows in 1897, six years ago.

Let It Alone.

Mt. Vernon Signal:—Some telephone subscribers have the mistaken idea that the "receiver" should be lifted from the "hook" during thunder storms. Where such an idea originated is difficult for telephone managers to discover. Leave the phone to care of itself. Don't bother the "Receiver." By observing this injunction, lightning has a better show to reach the earth through the ground wire.

Keep Them Turning.

Newspaper advertising costs you too much when you try it to-day and stop it tomorrow, says the Tampa, Fla. Tribune. So would clerks cost you too much if you hired them for a day now and then. Same with delivery wagons. The wheels of your business must never stop, and the whole machinery is out of gear unless the big advertising wheel is always turning.—Inland Printer.

Whisky vs. Sense.

There was a time when men of sense fooled with whisky, but they are gradually quitting it. No respectable man of good sense can afford to use whisky habitually. Actors were formally addicted to the drink habit. They have quit it to a great extent. It has been discovered that an actor who is temperate and takes care of himself receives a higher salary and more applause than one who, though he may be a better actor, has clouded his mind and burned his brain with fire water. Whisky has been tried at the bar of reason, it has been weighed in the balance and found wanting, it has been condemned by every man of understanding. But it seems to be growing in favor of the mentally unfortunate and degenerate. When a man is down in the world and there is utterly no hope of his ever returning to the paths of respectability, he drinks to drown his disgrace and by so doing succeeds in calling renewed attention to it. If the man who drinks could only be induced to stop he would be surprised at the number of helping hands there would be extended to assist him and at the encouragement sober men would give him.

The holiday number of the Woman's Home Companion contains sixty pages of timely matter. There are unusual illustrations of the Christmas celebrations at Bethlehem, the place of Christ's nativity, many photographs showing "Christmas Scenes in New York City," and an amusing article telling "How Uncle Sam Plays Santa Claus." The fascinating "My Recollections of Abraham Lincoln" are continued. The fiction includes "The Farm of the Dagger," "The Trilemma of Albertine," "The Curtain Party," "The Christmas Ogre," "The Angel and the Noah's Ark." There are scores of excellent suggestions for home made Christmas presents, and the winter fashions are given several pages of space. Amusing Puzzle Page, the Children's Department and "Suggestions for Home Decoration and Home Dressmaking" make up an unusually interesting number. Crowell Pub. Co. pany, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

Prospects Fine.

Mt. Vernon Signal:—James Maret, who recently met with the various independent telephone companies of seven states before the franchise committee of Cincinnati, says the prospects of an independent exchange in the Queen City is excellent. Among the statistics presented are these:
Independent. Bell.
Telephones ..... Telephones
140,000 ..... Ohio ..... 89,000
107,000 ..... Indiana ..... 46,000
45,000 ..... Kentucky ..... 23,000
2,073,540 United States ..... 1,542,000
The Independents propose to put in a two million dollar plant in Cincinnati within two years after franchise is granted.

As True As Gospel.

It is a great blunder in the pursuit of happiness not to know when we have got it—that is, not to be content with a reasonable and possible measure of it.

Common sense in one view is the most uncommon sense. While it is extremely rare in possession, the recognition of it is universal. All men admire it, though few have it.

The source of agreeableness or disagreeableness is in the thought life we need. It is thought that the social climate is made. Think pleasantly and you will act pleasantly.

This world is full of life; each life is a tune; so the world is a great orchestra; and of them all how few tunes are played through! How many ended as they were begun!

The great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving; to reach the port of haven we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail and drift, nor lie at anchor.

Now the basest thought possible concerning man is, that he has not spiritual nature; and the foolish misunderstanding of him possible is, that he has or should have, no animal nature. For his nature is nobly animal, nobly spiritual—coherently and irrevocably so; neither part of it may, but at its peril, expel despise or defy the other.

The Growth of Prohibition.

Few persons seem aware of the rapid growth of prohibition, particularly in the South. In Texas the Prohibitionists have carried a large majority of the counties and are still making the crusade so vigorous that they are yearly adding to the number.—They have also won all but eight of the seventy five counties in the State of Mississippi. In both States a movement is now made to adopt a constitutional amendment which will provide for the submission to a popular vote of a proposition to prohibit the sale of liquor, and it is believed it will receive a large majority, thereby extending prohibition even in those counties that have held against it.

In Tennessee there are now only a few counties where the sale of liquor is permitted; and should the movement in Texas and Mississippi succeed, it will likely be extended to Tennessee also, if not to Kentucky, but in the latter with less probability of success.

In the Western States the Prohibitionists are also very strong and growing in numbers and power.

Opposition to sumptuary laws has long been a tenet of the Democratic party; but unless the sentiment of the party on this subject has undergone a great change, how can we account for the rapid growth of prohibition in such strong Democratic States as Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee, to say nothing of Kentucky.—Courier-Journal.

Battleship Kentucky in Colors.

The Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway has just had completed for distribution a large order of pictures of the Battleship Kentucky, which is a work of art and should be in every Kentucky home. The picture is reproduced from a very fine, large, copy righted photograph by Mr Enrique Mueller, the official photographer for the United States Navy, taken as the ship is leaving New York harbor for a cruise. It is done in colors, the grey fighter slowly plowing its way through the carefully shaded green of the sea, and carrying at the top of her flagstaff the stars and stripes in their natural red, white and blue.

It is admirably suited for training; but as it is gotten out on heavy, dully enameled aa.dboard, it will prove an ornament to any home without framing. Six cents in postage sent to L J Irwin, G P A. of the popular Henderson Route, at Louisville, Ky., will bring this beautiful picture to your home. 12-11-tf.

It has been declared in some circles that unless leading cattle can be bought on a $3 basis there will not be a nominal number of young cattle put into feed lots this fall, says the Prairie Farmer. Between recent cattle history and corn crop prospects, the American steer is not a quantity in farming and feeding sections at present, and with the country in a selling humor there is every prospect that even a $3 basis for a good class of feeding steers will not stir up much of a demand from the small feeders. The immediate past always stands out as the strongest factor guiding the actions of a large number of people. This is specially true if the results have been such as exert a marked influence for good or ill. Many doubtless, have received such a bad scare that they will not get over it until every body else gets ready to feed again, and they will get another experience of high feeders and low fat steers. Those who keep right at it will make some profit in the intervening years. As a rule we think it a wise plan to grow the steers. Raise good ones and keep them going right along from the time they are little calves and market them at an early age. Some years the price received will be higher and some years lower, but the average return for such cattle will be a very fair return for the food consumed and labor expended in their production.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup.
